These records include all personally identifiable information that we collect from you in connection with opening an account and for any of the services provided by Albitz/Miloe and Associates, Inc. These may include but are not limited to your social security number, driver's license number, birthdate, account numbers/balances, and suitability profile.

Maintaining Customer Privacy in Business Relationships with Third Parties: We may utilize non-affiliated third parties whose systems we use as tools to further benefit our clients in the areas of communication, financial planning, and investment management. If we provide personally identifiable customer information to a third party with which we have an established business relationship, we will review their privacy policy to be certain that they say they will keep such information confidential and consistent with the conduct of our business relationship. For unaffiliated third parties that require access to your personal information, including financial service companies, custodians, consultants, and auditors, we expect them to keep your personal information private under the terms of their privacy policies. Federal and state regulators also may review firm records as permitted under law.

We limit employee and agent access to information only to those who have a business or professional reason for knowing, and only to nonaffiliated parties as permitted by law. (For example, federal regulations permit us to share a limited amount of information about you with a brokerage firm in order to execute securities transactions on your behalf, or so that our firm can discuss your financial situation with your accountant or lawyer.)

To protect your personally identifiable information from unauthorized access and use, we use security measures that comply with federal and state law. These measures include computer safeguards, secured files and offices.

The categories of nonpublic, personally identifiable information that we collect from a client depend upon the scope of the client engagement. This may include information about your personal finances, information about your health to the extent that it is needed for the planning process or insurance purposes, information about transactions between you and third parties, and information from consumer reporting agencies.

We do not provide your personally identifiable information to mailing list vendors or endorsers for any purpose.

Personally identifiable information about you will be maintained during the time you are a client, and for the required time thereafter that such records are required to be maintained by federal and state securities laws, and consistent with the CFP Board Code of Ethics and Professional Responsibility. After this required period of record retention, all such information will be properly destroyed.

Federal law gives you the right to limit sharing only for affiliates everyday business purposes, to limit affiliates from using your information to market to you (subject to applicable law, and to limit the sharing for non-affiliates to market to you). State law and individual companies may give you additional rights to limit sharing. If you limit sharing for an account held jointly that choice will apply to everyone on the account.

We reserve the right to modify this policy at any time, and if we do make changes, we will provide you with an updated Privacy Notice.
